Boating

Boating is popular with a variety of motorized and non-motorized watercraft using the waters of Placid Lake. You can explore the lake from a canoe or take in the thrill of water-skiing. A wide boat ramp, courtesy dock, and rental boat slips can be found at the campground.

Montana boating regulations are enforced and boating etiquette is strongly encouraged on Placid Lake.

Camping

Each of the park's 40 campsites includes a picnic table, fire grill, a level, paved pad on which to park a recreational vehicle, and/or space to pitch a tent. Eighteen sites have electric hookups including two sites that are fully accessible to ADA standards. The campground has flush toilets and coin-operated hot showers.

This is bear country and food storage and food waste rules apply. A locker is available for those traveling without a hard-sided vehicle to store food and other bear attractants. Bear resistant dumpsters are located throughout the campground and must be used.

For more information on staying safe in bear country visit:
<http://fwp.mt.gov/recreation/safety/wildlife>
or stop by the Fish, Wildlife & Parks and Forest Service offices, located at 3583 MT Highway 83 North in Seeley Lake.

RESERVATIONS

Campsite reservations can be made either by calling 1-855-922-6768 or online at campmt.com. Reservations are encouraged and may be made up to 9 months in advance or as close as 2 days prior to your arrival date. Some sites are also available on a first-come first-served basis.

Day Use

The day use area is accessed from North Placid Lake Road 1 1/2 miles north of the campground entrance. Here you will find picnic tables, fire grills, accessible restrooms and a boat dock. This area does not have a public boat launch, but one can be found at the campground.

Fees

Entrance/day-use and camping fees are posted at the park entrance. Entrance fees are charged on a per-vehicle basis. Camping fees are charged on a per-campsite basis with one camper unit allowed per site.

Vehicles with Montana license plates are not charged the daily entrance fee. Non-residents' vehicles pay the daily entrance fee during each visit or may purchase a Non-Resident Annual Pass; a valid pass allows unlimited access to all Montana State Parks. The Annual Pass can be purchased at all FWP offices, most state parks, and online.

Special fees apply to groups larger than 30 people. Information is available at all park fee stations and by calling the local FWP office at (406) 542-5500.

Regulations

To enhance your recreational experience and to aid us in protecting your state park, please observe the park regulations. Regulations are posted at the park entrance, can be obtained from park staff or found online at fwp.mt.gov/parks/rules
